S. R. Prabhu and distributed by Aditya–Rajini production company Aditya Productions. The film features Madhavan and Preeti Jhangiani in the lead roles, while Nassar, P. Ravi Shankar, and Ravi Varma play supporting roles. The film was shot at Pattukkottai and Velankanni in Chennai. Anwar Sadath and Sriman play the title roles in this dual role, and K. T. L. Sadasivan and Pasupathy play antagonists. It was made on a budget of 70 lakh and released on 11 July 2015. Upon release, it received mixed reviews and performed well commercially. The film was later dubbed in Telugu as Naa Auto Autoswa Seema. Plot Ramu (Madhavan), a close friend of three men – Murugan (Sriman), Balu (P. Ravi Shankar), and Manu (Nassar) – who run a garage. Ramu, who lives with his family in a house in Koyambedu, does odd jobs in the garage owned by Murugan, Balu, and Manu to make ends meet. Ramu, who is shy, and Murugan, who is a fun-loving person, do not get along. Balu and Manu are best friends. The three of them are in love with Seema, who is the elder sister of Murugan. When the trio come to know about Seema, the two men approach Ramu to secure his help, and to avoid Seema marrying Murugan, Balu and Manu decide to keep Ramu on a tight leash, and make him live in the garage. Murugan and Balu discuss Seema's marriage with Ramu, and want Ramu to run a video booth that he has established. Ramu is hesitant, but when Manu talks to him about Seema, Ramu agrees. On Seema's wedding day, Ramu gets the call from Seema, who asks him to come to the wedding venue. Seema asks her parents to join the wedding venue as soon as possible, as she is going through pain. Ramu is disturbed about Seema's marriage, as he sees it as a sin. On reaching the venue, Ramu sees Murugan, who, seeing Seema, talks to Ramu. Balu sees Se 82157476af
